

Missio Ad Gentes and Laity addresses the issue of the missionary service among lay people, in keeping with the Extraordinary Missionary Month October 2019 called by Pope Francis to enhance the missionary awareness and engagement of Christians, particularly the youth. The book concentrates on the Polish case, but it features scientific reflections in the field of theology, missiology, and sociology that can be applied to a broader context as well. Therefore, it is meant to inspire the missionary work of ecclesiastical communities all over the world.
